BOU-E014	BOU-E043B
BOU-E015B	BOU-E043C

This is a dynamic event that is constantly evolving and has grown into a significant storm. Based on initial information, it was determined that targeted evacuations were appropriate. The County has identified approximately 319 addresses that are considered as low-lying, high-risk homes for debris flow in the above listed zones. Deputies are currently conducting door to door notifications at those specific addresses. For residents who are not home in these high-risk areas, stickers with the warnings are being placed on their front doors or other high visibility areas at the home.

As the storm has grown in the last 12-24 hours, operational needs have evolved and additional evacuations are now required, including not just the homes at elevated risk. An evacuation order has been issued but does not take effect until 8 a.m. Sunday, October 24th. Weather can be unpredictable, and we urge residents in these evacuation zones to leave without delay.

Residents may look up their evacuation zone at https://community.zonehaven.com. Residents are also encouraged to register landlines, cell phones, or VoIP phones with CodeRED by visiting https://www.scr911.org/ and signing up for notifications, or texting SCR911 to 99411.

Debris flows are fast-moving masses of mud, rocks, boulders, trees and sometimes homes or vehicles. They move quickly and are often deadly to those in their path. The only way to avoid debris flows is to move to safety prior to any debris flow event. For debris flow information, visit https://www.santacruzcounty.us/FireRecovery/DebrisFlow.aspx.

The County has opened a call center, which residents may reach at 831-454-2181 with questions regarding evacuations and resources. The County will open a shelter at San Lorenzo Valley High School, 7105 Highway 9 in Felton at 8 a.m. Sunday, October 24th. Intake for the shelter will take place at San Lorenzo Valley Elementary School. If possible, residents are encouraged to seek shelter with friends and families. Please follow local news or County social media accounts at www.twitter.com/sccounty or www.facebook.com/countyofsantacruz for updates and additional information.

When evacuating, please take the following steps:

- Follow instructions from local officials, including for travel routes.
- Wear protective clothing and sturdy shoes.
- Take your emergency go-bag or disaster supply kit.
- Lock your home.
- Shut off water, gas and electricity if instructed to do so.
- Let others know when you left and where you are going.
- Make arrangements for pets and livestock, if necessary.

The weather forecast anticipates high winds and potential for downed trees. Residents should exercise caution when leaving their homes during the storm. For road conditions, visit sccroadclosure.com.

Those needing assistance with large animals should call Equine Evac at 831-708-8998.

If you have an emergency, please call 911.
